Remembrance & Reconciliation Festival 2018

Exhibition – Call for Submissions

As part of our Festival of Remembrance & Reconciliation (October 27th – November 11th 2018), we are planning an exhibition of original artwork, creative writing and family history/memorabilia. The call for submissions to the exhibition is now open and we are hoping to receive as wide a variety of materials as possible.

What are we looking for?

- Original Artwork
  - Paintings, drawings, sketches, sculpture, ceramics, glassware, textile art
  - All pictures should be mounted or framed
  - Sculpture, ceramics, glassware should be free standing and self supporting
- Photography
  - Photographs may be submitted as digital images by email to communitymonkseatonurc@gmail.com or as prints up to A3 in size.
- Poetry & Other Creative Writing
  - All poetry and creative writing should preferably be submitted electronically to communitymonkseatonurc@gmail.com. Handwritten submission may be accepted provided they are clear and legible.
- Family History
  - We understand that people may have information around family history or memorabilia that they would like to offer for display. However we ask that material of this nature is provided to us "display ready" as we do not have the capacity to curate individual items of this nature into the wider exhibition.
  - By "display ready" we mean that your items, photos and information should come to us pre-mounted with written printed information. Further information and advice is available from Lucy Cooke at communitymonkseatonurc@gmail.com.
